SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 5, 1869.

Mr. TRUMBULL, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported, without amendment, the bill prescribing the oath of office to be taken by persons who participated in the late rebellion, but who are not disqualified from holding office by the Fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States. It provides when such person shall be elected or appointed to any office of trust or honor under the United States Government, and shall not be able to take the oath prescribed July 2d, 1862, on account of participation in the late rebellion, they shall, in lieu thereof, before entering upon the duties of their office, take the oath prescribed in the act of July 11th, 1868, prescribing an oath of office to be taken by persons from whom legal disabilities shall have been removed.

Mr. THURMAN, from the same Committee, reported, with amendments, the bill for the sale of Hot Springs Reservation, Arkansas.

Mr. SCHURZ introduced a bill making St. Louis and Cincinnati ports of entry. Referred to Committee of Commerce.

Mr. SUMNER introduced a bill preventing United States Courts interfering with the contracts of slaves. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Mr. CHANDLER called up the bill authorizing the New York, Newfoundland and London and Lansing Telegraph Companies to land cables on the United States coast.

Mr. STOCKTON'S amendment, giving the same permission to any company chartered by any State, was pending.

While advocating his amendment the morning hour expired, and the joint resolution to protect the interests of the United States in the Union Pacific Railroad came up.

The question pending was on Mr. Sherman's amendment, concerning the junction of the two roads, etc., authorizing the President of the United States to fix the point of junction of the Union Pacific and Central Pacific Railroads, and for that purpose, if he deems it expedient, to appoint a board of eminent citizens, not exceeding five in number, to examine and report in regard to the proper point of junction, and also in regard to the condition of each road, and what sum will be required to complete it as a first class road.

Mr. WARD opposed the amendment. He did not think it wise to clothe the President with such extraordinary discretion, nor did he believe the President would be willing to exercise it. He contended the Secretary of the Interior had established a line between Monument Point and Echo Summit, upon which both companies were bound to build their roads. The Union Pacific Company, however, had seen fit to diverge to the north of the line fixed by the Secretary of the Interior, and now the two companies were constructing their roads, one eastward and the other westward, past each other, without forming a junction. This left the rights of the respective companies to be settled either by the courts or by Congress, and he greatly preferred that Congress should settle the matter by law because a lawsuit between the companies might result in depriving the country of the benefit of a through railroad to the Pacific for months, or even years. He therefore offered an amendment appointing Gens. Sheridan, Thomas, McDowell, Halleck and Thomas J. Durant a board of commissioners, with authority to establish the point of junction, which shall be on the line already approved by the Secretary of the Interior, the board to report such point to the Secretary of the Interior.

Mr. SHERMAN agreed that the point of junction must be fixed on the general route contemplated by the Secretary of the Interior, but objected to the amendment of the Senator, because it required the Commissioners to select some point, or a designated line, as if a line had been fixed by law, which, in Mr. Sherman's judgment, was not the fact. It was well known to every Senator that the line claimed to have been fixed by the Secretary of the Interior was in dispute, and that charges had been made in connection with it and were being investigated in the House of Representatives. It was now necessary that the point of junction should be fixed by some competent authority, because the rival roads were overlapping each other. The Union Pacific Company had already completed its road thirty miles beyond Ogden.

Mr. CONKLING asked which was the line fixed by the Secretary of Interior?

Mr. SHERMAN said that it was one of the disputed points; but however that might be, the responsibility of fixing the point of junction might, after all, rest on the President of the United States, and he (Mr. Sherman) therefore thought it better to place that responsibility upon the President at once, and let him select Commissioners, than for Congress to undertake to select army officers and send them away from their important official duties to do this.

Mr. WILLIAMS suggested to Mr. Sherman an amendment to his amendment, to direct the President to fix the point of junction according to the legal rights of the respective Companies.

The discussion was continued at length by Messrs. Thayer, Howard, Trumbull, Cole and Stewart on the points of controversy between the Central and Union Pacific Railroads as to where was the proper termini of the two roads, and the suit of Fisk against the Union Pacific Railroad Company in New York.

At four o'clock the Senate, without action, went into Executive Session and subsequently adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. ELA introduced a bill to provide for printing the Congressional record.

Mr. JENCKES, a bill to establish a Department of Justice.

Mr. NEGLEY, a bill reducing the number of army officers.

Mr. SHANKS moved that the Judiciary Committee investigate the charges against Judge Busteed of Alabama. Adopted—67 to 47.

Mr. COBURN introduced a bill supplementary to the Currency act of July 31, 1864. Laid over till Monday next.

The business on the Speaker's table was then considered.

Several Senate bills and resolutions were referred and the following passed:

To carry into effect the treaty with Mexico for the adjustment of claims.

To continue in force the act extending the charter of Washington City.

Continuing the Freedmen's Bureau Hospitals at Richmond, Vicksburg and the District of Columbia.

Mr. PAINE, from the Committee on Elections, reported a resolution for the appointment of a Select Committee to investigate the charges made by the Board of State Canvassers in South Carolina, relative to the system of terrorism and assassinations which prevented a fair canvass in the Third and Fourth Districts at the last election, but after a brief discussion withdrew it for the present.

Mr. BURDETT presented the report of the Committee on Elections, declaring A. S. Wallace entitled prima facie to the seat form the Fourth District of South Carolina, and gave notice he would call it up to-morrow.

Mr. RANDALL presented a minority report in the same case.

A message from the President announced that he had signed the Tenure-of-Office bill.

The business on the Speaker's table was again considered, and several additional bills and resolutions referred appropriately.

The Senate joint resolution enabling actual settlers to purchase certain lands of the Great and Little Osage Indians passed, with an amendment, in the nature of a substitute.

A discussion arose on the bill extending the time to construct the railroad from St. Croix river or lake, to the west end of Lake Superior, and to Bayfield.

Mr. JULIAN opposed the bill and moved its reference to the Committee on Public Lands, with an amendment restricting the sale of land to actual settlers.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Wis., advocated the bill, saying the opposition came from a rival interest, the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, and that Company had a heavy lobby around the House.

Mr. JULIAN disclaimed all knowledge of such opposition. His opposition was in the interest of the poor men who wanted to settle on public lands.

Mr. WASHBURNE declared the actual settlers in the counties through which the railroad was to be built were anxious to have the bill passed.

Mr. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, opposed the bill, because he had set himself against all railroad subsidies, whether in land or money.

After further discussion the bill was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

Mr. DAWES, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported back the Indian Appropriation bill, with the Senate amendments, which was made the special order for to-morrow.

The SPEAKER presented a message from the President, submitting the report of the Secretary of State, with a tabular statement as to the destruction of American merchant vessels by privateers during the war. Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. DAWES asked leave to offer a resolution for a Select Committee of seven on election frauds.

Mr. ELDRIDGE objected.

Mr. FARNSWORTH introduced a joint resolution authorizing the submission of the Virginia Constitution to a vote of the people, and authorizing the election of State officers provided by that Constitution, and of members of Congress. Referred to Reconstruction Committee.

Mr. FARNSWORTH, from the Postoffice Committee, reported the post route bill. Passed.

Mr. BURR offered a resolution directing an investigation into the election in Third and Fourth Districts of South Carolina. Referred to Committee on Elections.

The House then, at half-past four o'clock, took a recess, the evening session to be for general debate only.

Evening Session—Mr. BLAIR, of Michigan, in the Chair.

Mr. JENCKES addressed the House on the necessity of a reform in the civil service, and in favor of his bill to that end.

Mr. ORTH advocated the admission of St. Domingo into the Union upon its adoption of a Republican form of Territorial government.

Adjourned.

NEW YORK CITY.

Fisk vs. Union Pacific Railroad—Eighty Thousand Dollars in Securities Stolen.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 5, 1869.

In the case of Fisk vs. the Union Pacific Railroad, an affidavit was filed in the Supreme Court to-day by Oakes Ames, a stockholder, and Thomas C. Crane, John B. Alley, Sidney Dillen and Cornelius S. Bushnel Directors of the Company, which states that during the progress of the work a contract for construction was made, which was not to be binding unless afterwards approved by the stockholders; that Fisk afterwards purchased six shares of stock from a party who had assented to this contract, receiving a certificate for the same, upon which was endorsed an express ratification of all the acts of which he now complains; that he is therefore stopped from making any such complaint, that said Fish has no other stock in the Company; that his pretended subscription to the Company's stock was invalid, and that it was made without any intention of becoming a bona fide stockholder; that if valid, the stock belongs to other parties, who employed him as a broker to tender the subscription; that he never used or risked a dollar of his own money; that he has at various times since the commencement of the suit distinctly stated to Messrs. Dillon, Alley and Bushnel, that the subscription was made by him for other parties and not for his own benefit, but as certain officers and directors of the company refused to pay him $3,200 for services, counsel fees, &c., he brought suit for damages, and was determined to make the company pay him $75,000 or $100,000 to settle his claim; that he said further, in July last, to Mr. Busnnel, that papers were made out and signed by judges for the appointment of a receiver, and that such receiver would be appointed on the following day; the directors, fearing this threat would be carried out, and knowing that at that time the company had property to the amount of many millions in New York, which, if taken possession of by a receiver, without notice, would have put a stop temporarily to all work on the road, took measures for removing so much of such property as was convenient out of the jurisdiction of the Court. The deponents deny the allegations of Fisk and others as to fraudulent contracts with the Credit Mobilier, and explain those contracts, averring that they were just and equitable and more favorable to the stock holders than could have been made with other parties. The Credit Mobilier has paid but two dividends of six per cent. each. In some cases where the government subsidy was $32,000 per mile, the contractor has expended for grading over $200,000 per mile. The total profit to the builders of the road will not exceed fifteen per cent. upon the total disbursements. Believing it for the interest of the Government and Company that the road should be completed without the usual delays incident to works of this character, without regard to cost, and to this liberality alone is the fact due that the line is now practically completed at a cost contemplated in some cases more than double the original estimate.

Jno. B. Alley, one of the Directors, was examined before the referee, Mr. Redfield, and testified that under the contract with the Credit Mobilier, that company was to guarantee its fulfillment of advance money and receive two and a half per cent. commission as well as interest upon the whole contract. The commission would amount to one million two hundred thousand dollars. The amount of contract was about forty-seven million dollars. The commission has never been paid, as the Credit Mobilier could not respond to the call made upon them.

During Sunday night the store of Richard P. Bucks & Co., Twenty-ninth street, was entered by burglars, who broke open the safe and robbed it of $80,000 in securities, and $400 in cash. Of the securities only $600 in United States five-twenty bonds are available.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

Republicans Carry the State—Gain of One Republican Congressman.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARTFORD, Conn., April 5.—9 P. M.—Returns are coming in well for the Republicans, indicating the election of the State ticket by 1,000 majority, and the election of Strong over Dixon, for Congress, in the First District. Returns from forty towns give 821 net Republican gain over last spring's vote.

The full vote of Hartford gives for Governor, Marshall Jewill, Republican, 2,766, James E. English, Democrat, 327; for Congress, Julius E. Strong, Republican, 2,757, James Dixon, Democrat, 3,267, a Republican gain of 147 over the vote for Governor last spring.

WATERBURY, April 5.—The following is the vote of Waterbury: For Governor, English, 1,082; Jewill, 940. For Congress, Kellogg, 1,109; Babcock, 845. One Republican and Democratic Representative are elected.

HARTFORD, April 5.—The Times says the vote of the State will fall 10,000 behind that of last April. Hartford falls off over 400 and New Haven over 600. The result on Governor is close, with the chances in favor of Jewell. The Democrats elect Congressmen in the Second and Fourth, and the Republicans in the First and Third Districts. The Legislature shows considerable Democratic gains, but it will probably be Republican in both branches by reduced majorities.

The Courant says seventy-four towns show a Republican gain of 1,331. The Democrats give up the State. James Dixon is surely defeated by J. L. Strong in the First Congressional District. Babcock, Democrat, is is elected in the First District, Starkweather, Republican, in the Third, and Barnum, Democrat, in the Fourth.

HARTFORD, April 5.—There are Republican gains in Hartford and New Haven counties, and Democratic gains in Windham, Fairfield and Litchfield counties. Strong's election over Dixon is considered sure. The Legislature is pretty closely balanced.

NEW YORK, April 6—3 A. M.—Nothing received as to the status of the Legislature.

France and Belgium.

The Liberte, after a period of comparative restraint and silence, at length comes out with one one of those alarmist articles by which M. Emile de Girardin delights to create disquietudes on the Bourse. M. de Girardin denies altogether the assurance of the official papers that the Belgium railway affair is progressing peacefully. The Avenir National has stated that Belgium is decisely resolved not to recognize the Convention between the Luxemburg and the East of France companies. This statement the Liberte holds to be correct, but while the former journal can form no other conclusion than that the French Government, having made another mistake, must beat a retreat, the Liberte furiously asserts that France can retreat no more. If Belgium had preserved her freedom and neutrality, perfect concord would have been maintained between France and her weak neighbor. But Belgium, according to M. de Girardin, has sold herself to Prussia, and is manifesting persistent hostility to France as a consequence of the bargain. It is not a question between Paris and Brussels, but between Paris and Berlin. The Belgian Government must recognize the treaty between the railway companies, or, if it decline to do so, a French army must march across the Sambre.

THE Isthmus Canal negotiated for by Mr. Cushing, and rejoiced over by some at home, has failed. Colombia refuses to ratify the treaty that was made, and thus the whole thing falls through, or at least is postponed for further consideration. Such a canal would unquestionably be useful to our trade, as well as that of the world. But it would operate to some extent against the prosperity of the Pacific railways, and its ability to pay even ordinary interest upon the expenditure is far from certain. It may be well for us to have the feasibility of the undertaking more maturely considered. It it proves to be necessary, there is little doubt that another treaty can be negotiated; and there is small reason to fear European rivalry. Even should Europeans construct the canal, the same reservations that made it free to their use as to ours, under Mr. Cushing's treaty, would as undoubtedly preserve it for our use, without discrimination; and the cost of construction, at the lowest estimate, is enormous.

THE legions of rats which people the sewers of Paris suffer each Spring a generalonslaught with the formidable pack of terriers kept for that purpose by the municipal powers. Whenever a fresh lot of demolition is put in hand, a grand irruption of rats takes place in the neighborhood, and the terriers are accordingly set to work. In the battue which has just been necessitated by the pulling down of houses for the opening of the new Rue Reaumur, four thousand of these troublesome animals were killed during a single night. The numbers slaughtered annually amount to millions. These skins are converted by the cheap glove-makers into the "Gants de Turin," which closely resembles kid, while costing only a third of its price, are so generally worn by the economical portions of the Parisians. As for the flesh of these creatures—if report speaks true—the sausage-makers have a busy time of it after every fresh battue that takes place in the dark subterranean city.

Ex-President Johnson at Knoxville, Tenn.

KNOXVILLE, April 3.—At an early hour this morning the city was thronged with old friends of Andrew Johnson, who assembled in groups and anxiously discussed his former triumphs. He was met at the train by a delegation at eleven o'clock, and escorted to the Lamar House. He was introduced to a crowd of about five thousand persons by Mr. Nelson, and made a brief but characteristic speech, in which he said he had tried to protect the Constitution. All he asked was an examination of his record. He intended to devote the remainder of his life as a private citizen, to the vindication of his official life and native State and the obloquy cast on them. His back, though bent, had not been broken by the storm which had nearly wrecked the ship of State. Since he had seen in the papers his own obituary, he supposed he might be regarded as one risen from the dead, and he thought one coming from the grave might be believed. The Government is divided into three parts, and each department is confined to its sphere. I tell you, as one speaking from the dead, there is danger in the Government, and that danger is in the Legislative department. The Executive branch cannot make laws, neither can the Judiciary; but the Legislative branch, under the pretence of making laws, can trample upon the liberties of the people. Yes, a despotic Congress can go on until it takes away the liberties of the people. But I feel I stood as breakwater to the Government, and arrested its progress for a time. The time has come to talk about the first principles of the Government. Take away the restraints which have held back Congress, and one branch of the Government will wipe out the other two. Let me tell you here, that a wise and good Prince is infinitely better than a despotic, arbitrary Congress. Look at the acts of Congress, and see how they are like the acts of Great Britain towards the Colonies in the early days of this country. Look at our condition. The writ of habeas corpus suspended. And when a citizen appealed to the Supreme Court, Congress takes from him the right of appeal and deprives him of his liberty. He alluded to the charge of treason to his party, and asked where he had been false? He then took up the accusation about his being "Moses," and asked if it was not he who freed the negroes in Tennessee? Freedom is only liberty to work. It is not to build a miserable lazzaroni, to be supported by the Government. I have never deceived white men or black men. Let me say to you, as I said to my old servant when I came back. "Tom, the only difference between us is, that I freed you four years ago, and I was only emancipated on the 4th of March." As an evidence of his loyalty, he showed a paper signed by Gov. Brownlow, acknowledging the receipt of $1,500 to help establish a loyal press in Knoxville. He told his hearers that they were all slaves to bondholders, who never shed a drop of blood. I would to God that the government had not the credit to borrow a dollar to carry on war. Thank God, my honors have not been gained through blood. The wounded soldiers cannot attribute their wounds to me. He called upon them to cling to his compass and stand by the Constitution. He spoke about two hours, and was listened to with close attention On retiring from the stand he was heartily applauded, and was at once surrounded by a group of old friends. In conversation he spoke of Gen. Grant without reserve, characterizing him as a bundle of prejudices, and his "gilt enterprise Cabinet," as he called it.

Cuba.

HAVANA, April 3.—Col. Yoller is organizing a battalion of free blacks for active service, by permission of the government. It is understood more battalions will be organized shortly.

A skirmish took place between the insurgents and the government troops, while the latter were conveying provisions from Santa Cruz to Puerto Principe. The result is unknown.

The United States steamer Contocook sailed unexpectedly to-day.

The Voce de Cuba approves of the organization of colored regiments, and adds that the colored people favor Spain and always repelled the offers made by the insurgents.

It is reported the insurgents have destroyed a portion of the Sagua La Grande railroad.

HAVANA, April 3.—A Cuban suspected of sympathy with the rebellion, who had been acquitted by the court at Mantanzas, was released, but finding his life in danger concealed himself on board an American vessel. He was seized by the volunteers and the Government sent him under escort to this city. A party of volunteers came from Mantanzas and demanded his surrender, but Governor General Dulce refused, and finally appointed Cols. Herrera and Raco to visit Mantanzas and settle the matter.

The British war vessel Heron has returned from Ragged Island. She brings confirmatory information of charges against the Spanish naval officers in the matter of the schooner Mary Lowell, seized by them.

The Prussian schooner Niobe has arrived here from Jamaica, with several Mexican officers on board. They have been compelled to leave and were given passports on condition that they returned to Mexico.

Municipal Election at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, April 3.—Jos. H. Bunce independent Democrat, was elected Mayor to-day, over John G. Baxter, regular Democratic nominee, by a trifling majority. The election passed off quietly, and the following is the result: For Mayor: John G. Baxter, regular Democratic nominee, 4,061; Joseph H. Bunce, independent Democratic nominee, 4,266; Robt. Gilchrist, 2,340. Bunce's majority over Baxter, 205. Total vote polled, 10,667.

JAMES BROWN, one of the Coshocton county, Ohio, treasury robbers, was convicted in Newark on Friday. The robbery occurred in January, 1858. The parties to the robbery were Ketchum, the county treasurer, and Brown, a banker. After the money, amounting to about $22,000, had been taken, Ketchum was left in the office, bound and gagged. At the proper time he raised the alarm, and was found by the sheriff and others. The county has spent $20,000 in attempting to ferrit out the affair, but was unsuccessful, until a subsequent quarrel between the guilty parties, when Ketchum "blowed."

AT THE election of a new Hungarian Diet, the Left or Liberal Opposition is gaining largely. The returns are not yet complete, but it is supposed that the total gain will be from 50 to 60 members. In the last Diet, Deak controlled fully two-thirds of the members; in the new Diet his party will be reduced to about two-fifths. The gain of the Liberals forebodes new trouble for Austria.

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL
private diseases Syphilis in all its forms, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, averseion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Failing, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P.M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

The markets, in a general way, are devoid of anything that is really new or important. There is a general complaint in commercial circles of business being dull and times hard; money tight and collections very hard to make. We still entertain hopes, however, that there will be an improvement before long, as usually business generally improves at this particular season of the year, and we see no reason why this should be an exception.

APPLES—Are coming in more freely, but with a steady demand, prices are maintained, ranging from $4@6 per bbl, as to quality.

APPLE BUTTER—Is quiet and unchanged, at 90@$1 per gallon.

BUTTER—Prime to choice Roll is selling at 45@48, with a demand fully up to the supply. The roads are in such a bad condition, that there is little or none coming in from the country.

BEANS—In good supply and rather dull but unchanged; $3,50 to the trade, and $3,75 in a retail way.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Dull; 3@3¼.

CRANBERRIES—Sales at $18@$22.

CHEESE—Market almost bare; sales of New York Goshen at 24@25.

CARBON OIL—May be quoted at 30@31 for standard brands, in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches dull but unchanged, with small sales of quarters at 14 and prime halves at 18@19. Apples 10@12, as to quality.

EGGS—29@30 for fresh packed.

HAY—There is an improved demand for baled and prime tight pressed is being sold, on wharf, at $24@25.

HOMINY—$5,75@6 per bbl.

HEMP—$225 per ton.

PROVISIONS—The market is steady with a good city and country demand while prices remain unchanged. Sales of Bacon at 14½@ for Shoulders; Ribbed Sides, 16¾@17; Clear Sides, 18@18¼, and Sugar Cured Hams 19½. Steamed Lard, 19½, kettle rendered, 20@20½. Mess Pork $32,50. Dried Beef 21.

POTATOES—The arrivals are increasing, but as yet prices are maintained, ranging from 75@80 per bushel for small lots in store.

RIVER NEWS.

The River continues to recede steadily with eleven feet in the channel last evening by Monongahela mark. Weather yesterday was mild and pleasant and all that could be desired for out-door operations.

The following named towboats were to have left last evening: For Cincinnati—Warner, 80,000 bushels; Whale, 100,000. For Louisville—Diamond, 100,000; V. F. Wilson, 70,000. Total—350,000 bushels.

The Collossal, Capt M. A. Cox, will positively take her departure for St. Louis and Fort Benton to-day, and she will be followed by the Nick Wall, Capt. Tom Poe.

Capt. James Hamilton, of the illfated Armenia, arrived home on Saturday. Clerk Shepard was expected to reach here yesterday.

The St. Marys arrived about noon yesterday from Cincinnati with a very good trip. She returns again to-day at 12 M., and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. The St. Marys is a commodious and elegant sidewheeler, and having all the modern improvements and conveniences, offers superior accommodations to passengers. Capt. T. C. Sweeny is in command with Morris Dorsey in the office.

The Collossal, Capt. M. A. Cox, a bran new boat, built especially for the mountain trade, is filling up rapidly, and will leave to-day for Fort Benton.

The Nick Wall, Capt. Tom Poe's new mountain boat, is also announced for Fort Benton.

—The Glendale arrived at St. Louis on Friday last.

—The Peninah and Andrew Ackley were to have left St. Louis for Fort Benton on Monday.

—The Glasgow and Messenger arrived at Quincy on Friday last, enroute from Pittsburgh to St. Paul.

—Passengers and shippers will bear in mind that the Kate Putnam, Capt. G. W. Reed, leaves for Nashville to-morrow without fail.

—The Great Republic was to have left St. Louis for New Orleans on Sunday. The arrest of Capt. Donaldson, may have delayed her departure.

—James Kerr, Jr., has taken charge of the office of the Great Republic. Mr. Kerr is an old Pittsburgher, but for many years has been in the South.

—The Galatea arrived at St. Louis on Friday, the report of her sinking to the contrary notwithstanding. She met with an accident, but it was not serious as reported.

—The St. Louis Democrat says: Capt. Wm. Conley, having resigned the command of the steamer Commonwealth, that boat left yesterday in command of Capt. Tom Rogers, formerly of the Selma, W. H. Osborn, &c. We suppose that Captain Rogers' may be considered now and hereafter a St. Louis man.

—We were pained to learn on the arrival of the Arkansas that when the boat was twelve miles below Pine Bluff, her commander, Captain Shaw, met with a serious accident. He slipped near the bottom of the front stairs, and striking an upright spar, his knee pan was broken. The accident of course has kept him in bed ever since. In a few days he will start for his home, Wheeling, accompanied by his daughter. The fracture is slowly healing. Capt. A. C. McConnell will no doubt be in command of the Arkansas while on her Benton trip.

THE Cleveland municipal election yesterday resulted in the re-election of Mayor BOHRER, Democrat, by a small majority.

GOVERNOR GEARY, it is said, will not issue a pardon or reprieve to TWITCHELL, taking little stock in the innocence of that base murderer.

THE Spanish climate is said to be unhealthy for Minister HALE, and Dr GRANT thinks seriously of recommending his return to his native air.

A REWARD of $2,000 is offered for the capture of ORME and BROOKS, the murderers of BRODHEAD, at the Delaware Water-Gap, who escaped, a few nights since, from the Strousdburg jail.

RUSSELL ERRETT, for Assessor, Thomas W. Davis, for Collector, and Thomas Steel, for Collector of the Port, nominations made for this District, by the President, were all confirmed by the Senate yesterday.

THE MEADVILLE Republican, one of our most appreciated exchanges, was lately enlarged and otherwise materially improved. We hail this as a good sign of prosperity, and are glad to infer that our spicy contemporary is as much appreciated at home as abroad.

THE GENERAL REGISTRY LAW was before the Senate (Harrisburg) yesterday, but was not acted upon, opportunity having been given the Democrats to hear themselves talk on the subject. It will probably pass that branch of the Legislature and go to the Governor for signature to-day or to-morrow.

IT WILL be a matter of course for any proposition, in the line of Cuban propagandism, to pass the House. But it gratifies us to believe that both the Senate and the Administration walk a long way in the rear of our impetuous Representatives, on that line. No steps will be rashly taken to compromise our neutral obligations toward Spain.

AN EXECUTIVE intervention, in behalf of Virginia, is anticipated at Washington. It is said that the President is about to recommend Congress to provide for an early election in that State, under the UNDERWOOD Constitution. Such a recommendation might induce Congress to reconsider its agreement to adjourn next Saturday, and then to address itself vigorously to all the unfinished Southern business.

WE DIRECT the attention of our readers to the report of the Pittsburgh "Home for Destitute Women," printed elsewhere. The marked success of this excellent charity is in good part accounted for when we perceive by what hands it has been administered. But we must not forbear to congratulate the enlightened and prosperous people of these cities, and those who have comfortable homes, and culture to enjoy them—upon the alacrity with which they have responded, in this as in all kindred cases, to appeals in behalf of the destitute and unfortunate. It is in such works as these that we see the coming glory of any human society.

THERE MAY be some truth in the report that Senator SPRAGUE is about to purchase the Intelligencer, at Washington, and make it the organ of a new political movement. We perceive that the Providence Journal, on behalf of the people of Rhode Island, expressly disclaims any responsibility for, or participation in, the recent remarkable pronunciamentos of SPRAGUE. As the Senator needs an organ, and is rich enough to buy one, there is a peculiar propriety in this reported selection of the Washington journal for that conspicuous trust. SPRAGUE needs its types and the journal wants his cash. But the suggestion that Judge CHASE is to take part in the new political movement is palpably absurd. He is far too shrewd to accept SPRAGUE for anything more than a son-in-law. When it comes to politics, he will ignore him; de minimis non curat lex.

THE ELECTION in Connecticut, yesterday, resulted in a Republican victory, but the majority of last Fall has been considerably reduced. The Democrats lose one member of Congress, STRONG, Republican, being elected to succeed Mr. HUBBARD, from the Hartford district. Mr. STARKWEATHER, Republican, and Mr. BARNUM, Democrat, both members of the present Congress, have been re-elected. Mr. HOTCHKISS, Democrat, present Representative from the Second District, was not re-nominated. Mr. BABCOCK, Democrat, will succeed him. Mr. MARSHALL JEWELL, who was defeated by GOV. ENGLISH last year by 1,765 majority, has been elected over him on this turn. The Republicans lose several members of the Legislature, but they have ample margin left to retain power, having a majority of twenty-three, as it now stands, on joint ballot.

THE SHERMAN amendment to the joint resolution concerning the point of junction of the Central Pacific Road, building eastward, and the Union Pacific Road, building westward, was before the Senate yesterday and excited a lively debate. The country is only interested so far in the matter as to obtain the earliest meeting of the workmen and the joining of rails to afford a direct and unbroken iron pathway from ocean to ocean. The Union Pacific Road has been built well and quickly, and because, forsooth, to escape a tunnel, slight divergement was made from the line established by the Secretary of the Interior. We do not see that a half a million of dollars of work or twenty-five miles of track should be torn up to accommodate the company working this way. Mr. SHERMAN'S idea, to have a disinterested commission visit the west and fix a point for junction, is good. The proper point should be established just where the workmen meet, and then let the contractors of the rival companies put forward their best endeavors to gain as much of the unfinished track as they can.

THE New York Tribune, a few days since, illustrating the vigilant activity of the foreign manufacturing interests in watching and deflecting our Congressional legislation on all tariff questions, incidentally alluded to one GEORGE DWIGHT, a gentleman who, while ostensibly employed as a correspondent, we believe, for the New York Express, was well known to be really the Washington agent of English and French manufacturers, and as such to exercise a potent influence at the Federal Capital. The Tribune's allusion was forthwith denounced as false in point of fact, by one of its free-trade cotemporaries which, fancying it had made a capital point upon Mr. GREELEY by its superior information, dilated very triumphantly upon the exposure of the Tribune's fabrications. Mr. GREELEY was entirely right in his facts, and is entitled to the retort which he will know how to make. The writer of this knew the gentleman referred to, and recognized the accuracy of the Tribune's statements in that connection. Mr. DWIGHT was a teacher at Northampton, Mass., until he engaged in journalism, and was, throughout his life, a man of more than ordinary mark. As the free-trade agent at Washington, he was sufficiently unscrupulous and active, to be worthy, if he were alive to-day, of the place of Mr. D. A. WELLS himself. It is certain that he had far more shrewdness and tact, than is betrayed by the journal which now denies that such a man lived.

PETROLEUM AFFAIRS.

We have before us the carefully prepared monthly statement of petroleum affairs in the Venango region, compiled for and published in the Titusville Herald. It appears that while in some particular localities the production fell away or decreased, the loss was fully balanced by increases obtained in other districts. During the past month no heavy or extraordinary strikes were made, but production was kept up to the average by improving old wells and resucitating operations of abandoned ones, which in many cases were made to yield largely by means of torpedoes. The productton during the month averaged 9,791 barrels per day, making a total of 303,521 barrels. Cherry Tree Run district averaged 680 barrels per day, which shows an increase of 230 barrels per day over the month of February preceding. The Charley Run district remained about on an average with February, steadily producing 900 barrels per day. Along the Allegheny river, south of Franklin, the product decreased slightly in the aggregate, although there was a slight increase at one or two points. The total product of the farms along the river from the place last named to Brady's Bend—as shown by the increase of stock and the shipments—was about six hundred barrels per day. In the Pleasantville district there was also a slight decrease—the average daily product having been 1,750 barrels.

In this district the decline occurred mainly within the last week, and the product at the close of the month did not exceed 1,900 or 1,650 barrels per day. On one or two of the developed farms in the northern part of the district, the product of some of the wells increased by continuous pumping. On Church run and on the farms in the vicinity of Titusville, the product was very steady, the daily average for the month having reached 470 barrels, a decrease of but ten barrels from the daily average of February.

Development is slow. There are now 292 wells going down against 342 on the first of March. Fifty wells were completed with satisfactory results in most cases not yielding largely.

But one well, which was struck on Cherrytree run, produced as high as 100 barrels per day, and only four produced from 70 to 99 barrels. Of these latter, three were struck in the Pleasantville district, and one on Upper Cherry run. At Tidioute four wells were struck, the production of each of which averaged about 35 barrels per day.

On Upper Cherry run the new well—spoken of above—is situated on the black oil belt, and by the finding of it the known producing territory has been considerably extended, and the direction in which the sand rock, which yields black oil, is supposed to extend, has been better indicated.

The demand for petroleum has been light, and, as a natural consequence, the stock has increased largely. There were held on the 1st 329,324 barrels. The price has kept up between five and six dollars per barrel. The journal from which we quote ventures no opinion as to the future of the oil trade or the prospects for further and more energetic development this Spring.

OUR ENGLISH CLAIMS.

The State Department, at Washington, is in possession of the detailed evidence, showing that nearly three hundred American vessels, covering property valued at more than thirteen millions of dollars, were destroyed by rebel cruisers during the late war. With exceptions insignificant in amount, this destruction was accomplished by vessels fitted out in British harbors, armed with British guns, equipped by British capital, manned in great part by British seamen, and permitted to sail from British ports by British connivance in the violation of the British neutrality laws. And all this in the face of seasonable advices and protests from our own Consular and diplomatic representatives residing in the British dominions. And here we have the whole case of direct damages for reclamation. It is probable that the figures, returned as above from the files of the State Department, cover, very nearly if not altogether, every instance of damages directly resulting from those depredations. It is presumed that all the attainable evidence of that character has been thus filed, and that it tells the whole story, in the way of direct proof. So far, the case is plain. Her liability for the satisfaction of these claims has come to be fairly admitted by England; that government no longer shrinks from the just responsibility which the improperly permitted infraction of her own laws, and of the international code, has imposed upon her, and she now asks for an orderly and reasonable investigation of the specific facts connected with each case. Conceding the general liability in principle, she stands ready to satisfy each and every claim which it properly justifies. So far the case continues to be plain.

But it is stated, and doubtless with truth, that American commerce suffered by those depredations indirect damages to a vastly greater amount; that for every ship seized and burned, one or more others were in effect driven from the sea; that the entire body of our foreign carrying-trade, especially to other than European ports, was checked, or altogether suspended under the just apprehensions growing out of the known presence of those cruisers upon the seas; that large amounts of property invested in American shipping were forced to lay idle at our docks, or change its nationality and assume another flag, and that the most desirable portions of our sea-going commerce were of necessity surrendered to other nations, indeed, in a great measure, to England herself. For the resulting or secondary damage thus inflicted upon us, compensation from England is also claimed. Vast amounts would be covered by a precise statement of the injuries thus inflicted, far exceeding the sum of direct injuries yet proved. Not one dollar of such claims has been properly authenticated to our Government, and it is very doubtful if a solitary dollar of them ever can be proved, in accordance with the well-settled principles of a law which, in that regard, is the same in both American and English tribunals. In the very nature of things, such claims, undoubtedly just as they are in the abstract, can never be so proved as to fill the conditions requisite for a recovery of damages between either nations or individuals. Be the sum more or less, ten or a hundred millions, its details can never be so precisely defined, under the rigidly inflexible rules of evidence, as to support a distinct judgment affirmatively upon even one solitary claim. In that view, these secondary damages will ever continue to present themselves as a vague, shadowy, indistinct cloud, without a limit capable of definition, its mass not more apparent than intangible—and which must be at last swept away, if at all, not by any systematic or orderly solution, but by a whirlwind of national feeling, or be suffered to melt away under the gentle but potent influences of a common Christian civilization.

This part of our case against England may be plain enough to American eyes, but it neither convinces her nor satisfies the impartial judgment of the world. Nor do our own people expect its precise adjudication, with any specific payment. We have not a politician or a journalist who avows that hope. The satisfaction which these look for is to be a payment in kind—if at all. They insist that we shall retain, until some convenient hour, an equal right to ravage English commerce, and drive that flag also from the sea. Whether by the piratical use of some other hostile flag, or in the issue of an open war, the same desired result—of satisfaction by revenge—is to be kept steadily in view.

An additional element is thrown in, to embarrass any possible adjustment of either or both of these questions. It is claimed that England was unfriendly, if not wholly without legal justification, in her premature recognition of the belligerent rights of the rebels; that she supplied the Confederacy with war-like munitions and contraband goods; that her Canadian and West Indian ports were notoriously the convenient entre-pots of this mischievous traffic, and that, but for the complicity of the English people in rendering such substantial aid, the rebellion would have been crushed in less time, and with a vastly diminished cost to us of lives and treasure. And, for all this, the same vindictive satisfaction is demanded by large numbers of our people. It is not pretended that this contraband trade was carried on in any open violation of the English laws, but only that it is to be regarded as a flagrant mark of the unfriendly disposition of her people to the Federal power.

Here is the case, then. England is avowedly ready to satisfy such claims as we can prove, and which are sustained by her own laws and the laws of nations. And she can pay no others, simply because there are no others which we can support by reasonable proof. The only question for our people to consider is whether we shall accept what we can lawfully claim, or whether we shall waive any form of adjustment which shall debar us from the ultimate and complete satisfaction of war, with its maritime plunder and territorial conquest.

RAILWAYS IN NORTH PENNSYLVANIA.

The acquisition of the Oil Creek and Allegheny River Railroad by the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad puts the latter in connection with the Allegheny Valley Railroad at the mouth of Oil Creek, and, by the Allegheny Valley Railroad, in communication with the Western Pennsylvania Railroad at Kiskiminitas, with the Pennsylvania Railroad at Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad in Allegheny City. And so soon as a bridge shall have been built across the Allegheny river at Oil City, cars can be interchanged between the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad. And, exactly as east of the Allegheny mountains intercommunication is established between roads at Lock Haven and Tyrone by the Bald Eagle Valley Railroad, so west of the Allegheny Mountains intercommunication will be established between the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad and the Pennsylvania Railroad at Oil City, at Kiskiminetas and at Pittsburgh, by the Allegheny Valley Railroad. Not only, therefore, will the acquisition of the Oil Creek and Allegheny River Railroad give the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad its equitable share of eastward bound oil and also of the miscellaneous traffic for and from Oildom, but it will also at the same time tend to weld the Allegheny Valley Railroad to its connections at Oil City, at Kiskiminitas and at Pittsburgh, making it a link in the great Pennsylvania quadrilateral which fortifies the Juniata and the West Branch on the south and north, the Susquehanna and the Allegheny on the east and west, covering the only two naturally eligible and economically available routes east to Pittsburgh and New York and west to the Ohio river and Lake Erie.

How the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company happened in funds to make the purchase of 43,000 shares of Oil Creek and Allegheny River Railroad Company's stock, is easy of solution.

In 1867, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company converted $2,400,000 Philadelphia and Erie and seven per cent. bonds into 48,000 Philadelphia and Erie preferred capital shares, whereupon the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company became re-possessed of the amount of loan so returned to their coffers, and which was opportunely available for re-issue, in a most important negotiation. The price paid the Oil Creek and Allegheny Railroad stock was, we believe, forty dollars per share, in bonds at par.—U. S. Railroad Journal.

The New York Printers' Strike.

The printers' strike, in New York, so long existing, has been settled on the following basis: The employing printers concede the twenty dollars per week asked by the Union, and the Union reduces the prices of composition about one cent per thousand ems, as follows: Fifty-three cents for solid miscellaneous copy, and fifty cents for leaded, or fifty cents for solid reprint copy, and forty-seven cents leaded. The price per hour for day work is to be thirty-five cents, and for night work fifty cents. Compositors employed at day work will be allowed to charge ten cents per thousand ems additional, for all matter set after six o'clock P. M. All book work to be charged in pages. Both Coinmittees are to sign the new scale, and a copy of it is to be posted conspicuously in every office. The employing printers also agree to recognize the Printers' Union, and recommend the establishment of a "House of Call," for the accommodation of unemployed printers, to be supplied with magazines and newspapers, the expense to be borne mutually by the Typothetae and Union.

The Civil War in Mexico.

Correspondence from Mexico states the civil war in the State of Tamaulipas continues to rage with unabated fury. A party of rebels under Vergas defeated Escobedo's troops near Villagrassa, capturing his equipage, archives, and twenty-seven thousand dollars in specie. The same party attacked the city of Linares, but were repulsed with heavy loss. Escobedo's policy towards the rebels is of the most bloody and relentless character; nothing but extermination satisfies him. He has given orders to have shot all foreigners who are not provided with passports. Two American traders on their return from Saltillo to the Rio Grande were robbed by the military, shot, and their bodies hung up on trees.

The Philadelphia Robbery—$1,000,000 of Securities Stolen.

We had the telegraphic announcement of the robbery of the Beneficial Saving Fund Society, in Philadelphia, some time during Sunday, the 4th, of bonds and other securities amounting to over one million dollars. We have the following particulars by mail:

The robbery was committed between the hours of 6 A. M. and 4 P. M. The burglars affected an entrance from the stairway leading to the billiard room in the building. The floor was strewn with papers and envelopes which had contained the securities of the Society. All the bonds, amounting to over eight hundred thousand dollars, were stolen, together with two or three hundred thousand dollars worth of coupons and registered bonds, that had been left in the fire-proof for safe-keeping. The fire-proof is built of brick and stone, with double doors of chilled iron, the outer door having a combination lock. The burglars performed their work in the most skillful manner, by drilling through the door into the lock and then breaking the bolt by means of a stout brace of timber. Everything, with the exception of a thousand dollar bond, was taken and this probably escaped their notice. The securities, amounting to eight hundred thousand dollars in cash, were kept in a small iron safe which had four locks, each with a different key, but the locks were completely smashed by means of a brace. The Treasurer of the Society, Patrick Quinn, had $50,000 worth of bonds of his own, of which $45,000 were coupon bonds, all taken. Mortgages amounting to a quarter of a million of dollars were not disturbed. The securities stolen consisted of $125,000 six per cent. loan; $93,000 United States Five-Twenties; $33,000 Pennsylvania War loan coupon bonds; $10,000 New Jersey six per cent. coupon bonds; $20,000 Delaware six per cent. coupon bonds; $15,000 Northern Pennsylvania Railroad coupon bonds; $10,000 mortgage bonds same road; $14,400 U. S. bonds, '81; $25,000 Philadelphia and Erie bonds; $32,000 Allegheny county bonds; $2,000 Camden City coupon bonds; $26,000 Huntingdon and Broad Top Railroad bonds; $64,000 Schuylkill Navigation Loan; $23,000 Camden and Amboy coupon bonds; $40,000 Long Island Railroad; $1,000 North Pennsylvania seven per cent. bonds; $32,000 Allegheny five per cent. bonds; $15,000 North Pennsylvania six per cent. loan. The registered bonds stolen amount to $400,000, and coupon bonds to $150,000. The depositors in the Society number about three thousand, and the securities stolen were held for their benefit. To meet the loss sustained the Society will secure the registered bonds, the mortgages, besides the real estate, worth about $80,000, making a total of $730,000 to meet their liabilities, even if the coupon bonds should not be recovered. A reward of $25,000 is offered for the capture of the burglars. The managers of the institution have decided to suspend payment to depositors.

The Spanish Monarchy Hereditary.

By some strange blunder the Atlantic cable totally misstated the monarchical feature of the new Spanish constitution, which turns out to be a pure and unadulterated hereditary monarchy of the regular European type, the heir becoming of age at eighteen. As the Duc de Montpensier is now pretty certain to be king, we can form an idea of what the new government is likely to be. His wife is the sister of Isabella, the dethroned queen, and the mother and sister have been so unmistakably bad that we can really see no reason for confidence in the dutchess. Isabella had banished Montpensier and his family some time time before the revolution. She had a suspicion that he was plotting against her, and it turned out that he was, for the revolution is said to have been chiefly his work. He had his friends artfully placed in high commands in the army and navy, and when the time came these carried with them all their forces.

The New York Vigilance Committee

A New York dispatch of April 1st says: Under a special summons, the local organizations of the Vigilance Committee met in the Ninth ward to-night, to consider Judge Sutherland's action in the Real case. The debate was so stormy the chairman could not control the meeting, many members urging that a general organization be called out to proceed to the Tombs and execute the law upon Real. The general President of the committee was sent for and on his arrival the excitement was somewhat quieted. The chief leader advised the Vigilants to wait the action of the Court of Appeals. Discussion followed, but the President assured the meeting that he believed the Court of Appeals would confirm the sentence of the lower Court, and only give the prisoner a short respite. The meeting adjourned with a determination to await developments, but in the meantime to watch matters closely.

A PRIVATE letter from Rio de Janeiro, gives intelligence of an exciting incident at that port, in which a young midshipman in our navy displayed a fine spirit. Early in February, a number of men belonging to the flag-ship of the squadron, had over-stayed their leave of absence on shore, and a boat, in charge of this midshipman, was sent to pick them up. After some resistance, as the men were in liquor, he succeeded in securing a dozen of them, but was compelled to place two of the most unruly on the steam launch, to be taken on board the flag-ship. These men, one after the other, jumped over into the deep water before the launch left the ferry dock, and were both successfully brought to the surface and saved, through the gallant conduct of this young officer, who dived after them. The incident excited the greatest admiration in Rio de Janeiro for the heroic midshipman, whose name is Mason, and who is a New Yorker. He graduated at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, only last summer.

CHRISTINE-MILLY, a female edition of the Siamese Twins, is (or, are?) exciting quite an interest among the wonder-loving of our population. Christine-Milly differs from Chang and Eng in this particular: that from the point of junction, near the middle of the back, downward, she is only one person, and from the same point upward they are two perfect and distinct individuals. The two heads are quite intelligent and hold spirited little chats, one with the other, sometimes indulging themselves to the extent of a sharp dispute.—Mobile Register.

—A bill is now before the Arkansas Senate prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors in quantities less than five gallons, except upon a prescription of a physician.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Mrs. Mark Bates, the popular commedienne at the Opera House, took a benefit last evening, and, as we anticipated, her numerous friends turned out en masse. The entertainment was a most excellent one, and the audience left the house more favorably impressed with Mrs. Bates as an actress than when they entered it. To-night Mr. and Mrs. Vandeever take a benefit, and the bill announced is a most excellent one. Mr Vandeever and wife, notwithstanding they have been in the city but one season, have a host of friends and admirers, and we presume the benefit will be a substantial one. They are both clever people, and when properly cast have few equals and no superiors in their line of business.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—Mr. Williams, the popular manager of the Pittsburgh Theatre, announces a whole constellation of new and brilliant luminaries in the profession, who will appear this evening and every evening during the week. The Blanchards and their trained dogs will remain another week.

MUSEUM.—A number of new and attractive features have been added to Burnell's Museum, and will be on exhibition during the present week, among which are the performing dogs.

FAIR.—The St. Agnes Church Fair opened last evening at Miller's Hall, corner of Gist street and Fifth avenue.

CONCERT.—The Concert at Grace Church, Mt. Washington, for the benefit of the church, takes place this evening. It will be a highly interesting entertainment.

Municipal Election in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, April 5.—At the Election to-day, for city officers, Torrence, for Mayor, and Taft, for Judge of Superior Court, both Republicans, were elected. The latter had no opposition; whole republican ticket is elected, except three minor offices.

A SIGNIFICANT LETTER.

LOUISVILLE, March 22d, 1869.—Find enclosed P. O. order for * * * which you will please place to my credit, and send immediately half a gross of Blood Searcher, and a full supply of circulars.

The demand for your medicine is gradually increasing, and I believe will eventually take the place of other similar preparations, now being extensively advertised throughout Kentucky and the Southern States, but there is little advertising needed that will reach the masses. Circulars will do very well in the locality where the Blood Searcher is sold, but the greater number are only to be reached through the medium of a popular newspaper, a few insertions is all that is required. Let the people of Kentucky once know that DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER can be had at the Medicine and Toilet Depot, Louisville, Kentucky, and I guarantee a profitable return. I have an extensive acquaintance throughout Kentucky and the South, and though I claim not to be an exception to the generality of my fellows, I flatter myself that the name of W. W. WILLIAMS, as Agent for the Blood Searcher, will at least not lessen the demand, but on the contrary, will induce many to take hold of it, and when they have done so it will matter very little who is the Agent, or where it comes from, DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER will be the medicine they have tested and what they will want. The Blood Searcher is doing good work in this locality. There are numbers to whom I have recommended it for dyspepsia, and as a general Tonic, and in every case I have had a good report. There is a gentleman in business opposite my store who has been confined to his room since July last with scrofula, a physician attending every day, and getting no better. Soon after I received your first consignment I sent him one of your circulars, but it was some etime before I heard from him, and not until I sent Mr. Boyd over to see him did he conclude to try it. He is now getting well, and regrets that he did not adopt the remedy sooner. His case was as bad if not worse than that of Mr. Boyd, and will prove a valuable acquisition to the list of cures. Allow me to congratulate you on your removal to your new store, with the hope that it it will in no way detract from your former prosperity. Respectfully,

W. W. WILLIAMS.

To DR. KEYSER, Pittsburgh, Pa.

THE TRUE MEDICAL DOCTRINE.

Nature, when struggling with disease, indicates unmistakably the kind of assistance she requires. In cases of nervous weakness and general debility, the feeble pulse, the lack-lustre eye, the attenuated frame, the flaccid muscles, the melancholy visage, inform us as plainly as if each organ had a tongue, that a medicated stimulant is needed. It does not require the aid of a medical education to understand this dumb appeal for new vigor, from an exhausted system. Every reader of these lines can comprehend it just as well as the graduate of a physicians' college. Let not this demand of enfeebled natur be neglected. Respond to it promptly by commencing a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation uniting, in their highest excellence, the properties of a STIMULANT, an INVIGORANT, and an ALTERATIVE. Before three days have elapsed, from the taking of the first dose, a marked beneficial change will be manifest in the bodily and mental condition of the patient. The pulse will be stronger and more regular, the eye will begin to lose its dull expression, the muscular and nervous systems to recover their tension, and the spirits to improve. Persevere, and a complete revivification of the depressed animal and mental powers is certain. In cases of dyspepsia and biliousness, the same salutary results will be obtained. The appetite will revive, the sallowness of the skin disappear, and all the distressing symptoms which accompany disorders of the stomach and liver, will rapidly subside. The sudden changes of spring often intensifies these complaints by checking the perspiratory action, by which so much morbid matter is evaporated through the pores of the body, and therefore the BITTERS are especially useful to the dyspeptic and bilious at this season.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The gold market opened strong at 131⅛, and closed steady at that figure. The anticipation of May coupons had but little effect, and few are availing themselves of the opportunity of having their interest cashed.

Government bonds opened strong and advanced about ¼ per cent. when the market suddenly broke and declined about ½ per cent.; but closed strong at the decline. Old bonds of 1862 have advanced again to 119⅜, but old 1865's are lower, having fluctuated between 116⅜ and 116⅞. 1868's are lower and neglected, selling as low as 113¾, after having sold at 114. The whole Government market is unsettled, and parties who calculated to buy on the expected decline about the first of the month, feel disappointed and do not know how to act. The general impression, however, is that bonds will go higher, since the advance in foreign exchange has enabled the bond bankers to sell their bills with a profit, and buy bonds at a lower rate than two weeks ago.

Stocks are strong and have advanced through the entire list, with a general disposition to hold for higher prices.

Money is easier but business is improving slowly.

Quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz: Gold, 131⅛; Silver, 125; Eighty-one's, 116; Five Twenties, 1862, 119, do 1864, 114¾; do 1865, 117; do 1865, Consols, 113⅝; do 1867, ——; do 1868, 113⅜; Ten Forties, 105⅜; New York Central, 63¾; Erie, ——; Reading, 91¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad, 26⅛; Ohio & Mississippi, 33; Michigan Southern, 96⅛; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 90¼; Chicago & Rock Island, 31⅛; Chicago & North Western, 84⅞; Chicago & North Western Preferred, 95; Adams Express Company, 59¾; Merchants Union Express, 16; Pacific Mail, 91⅜; Western Union Telegraph Company, 40⅝; Gregory, 2,80; Quartz Hill, 1,20; Corydon, —; Smith & Parmlee, 2,50; W. NEW YORK, April 5, 1868.

The money demand is urgent from brokers. During the day the most of the banks either closed on legal or below the point; closing rates were 7 per cent. gold at 1 1-16 per cent. commission, or 7 per cent. currency at ⅛ per cent. commission. Sterling firm; prime bankers were generally held above the market; we quote at 8⅛@8¼ for 60 days, and 8⅜@8⅞ for sight; these quotations are mostly nominal. Gold dull; opened at 131⅛, advanced to 131⅜, fell to 131⅛ and closed at 131⅜. Rates paid for carrying were 5¼@5½, 32 and 1-32 per cent. to flat. Gross clearance, $39,000,000.

Governments strong and higher, under the prices from London and liberal purchases on both foreign and home account. To influence the prices, a number of swindle loans were called in and the market hammered by offerings of currency sixes, and with small sales yielded to the following quotations, owing to which no large amount of gold bonds can be purchased. Coupons of '81, 116@116⅛; do. '62, 119@119⅛; do. '64, 114⅝@114¾; do. '65, 116⅝@116¾; new do., 113½@113⅝; do. '67, 113⅜@113½; do. '68, 113; 10-40s, 105⅛@105¼.

State Bonds dull. Missouris, 87½; Old Tennessees, 64½; New 64; North Carolinas, 63@63¾.

Stock market generally strong during the day and quite buoyant. The money pressure and speculative interest was chiefly in North Carolina, Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne, Pacific Mail, Rock Island and Mariposa, in which the advance was most marked, though the market was all higher, in sympathy, at the close.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

There was a very fair supply of Cattle on sale to-day, 687 head, but with a good local demand, the market was stronger than last week, and, by ten o'clock, there were but very few unsold. It is probable that prime Cattle were no higher, but common and medium stock sold at an advance, and we have no hesitation in saying that the average price of all the stock sold was higher than that of last week. In regard to quality, the offerings were below that of the past two or three weeks, though there were quite a number of good Cattle, and butchers generally experienced no difficulty in obtaining whatever kind they wanted. Out of some forty car loads on sale, thirty seven came from Chicago, showing that Chicago is our main point of supply; this has been the case pretty much all winter, and it is likely to continue so until about the 1st of June, or until such time as grass Cattle commence to make their apperance.

As will be seen by reference to report of sales, prices ranged from 7½@8 for good butchers stock, and 8¼@8½ for prime do. Stock steers may be quoted at 5@6¼. Fresh Cows dull; prices range all the way from $40@80.

John Richey sold 8 head rough steers to J. Rothchilds averaging 1,150, at 6@6¼; also 1 cow and 1 heifer, at 6; Dolan wholesaled to McAllister 30 head good steers, from Chicago, at 7½; McAllister retailed above lot of cattle, at 7¾@8¼; L. Rothchilds 24 Chicago steers, at 7@7½; L. & J. Shamberg 55 do do, at 6@8; M. Verner 18 do do, at 7@7¾; Zeigler to Hartman 33 do do, at 6¾@8¼; Haas & Kraus 37 do do, at 7@8; E. Katz 18 do do, at 6@7¼; L. Keefer 23 do do, at 6¾@8; J. Needy 36 do do, at 7@8½; same 17 from Ohio at 7@8½; J. Rothchilds 11 from Pennsylvania, at 6½@7½; S. Marks & Bro. 56 from Chicago, at 7½@8½; Blackstock & Hazlewood 32 do do, at 7@8¼; Traurman & Lobman 63 do do, at 6¼@8¼; Holmes, Lafferty & Co. 34 cows from Cincinnati (stillers), at 6¼@7¾; 16 steers from same place, at 6¾@8; 15 mixed stock from Cincinnati, at 6¼@6¾; Smith & Blue sold 18 head, for Applegate, at 6@7 cts; Hedges & Taylor 53 from Ohio, at 6½@7¼; M. Carr 18 for Dolan, from Chicago, at 7½@8½; Greenwald & Kahn 55 do do, 7@8¾; Stakely & Bro. 11 Penna, at 4½@6¼; Lowensteine 16 from Chicago.

SHEEP—The supply of Sheep was exceedingly small to-day, 186 head, and there was hardly enough business done to establish quotations. The roads are in such a miserable condition that it is next to impossible to drive them, and this accounts for the very small supply on sale to-day.

James Kerr sold 106 head from Allegheny county at 5½@7¾; Moulton & Neely sold 50 head from Mercer county at an average of 5½; Stakely & Bro. had 30 head of scalawags on sale—up until 10 A. M. they had not been sold.

HOGS—The Hog market was rather better to-day, that is, there was an improved demand; while as regards prices, there is no change compared with last week. Quotations, in a retail way, may be fairly given at 11@13, but very few sales above 12½.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

The market was again exceedingly quiet to-day, the sales being unusually light while so far as prices are concerned there is no material change, compared with the closing quotations of Saturday. The most important point under consideration was in regard to the production. Private telegrams from Titusville reported that the Herald made the daily production for March nine thousand and ninety-one barrels, an increase of twenty-six barrels compared with February; this report created considerable surprise, as it was generally expected that instead of an increase there would be a decrease, variously estimated at from two to five hundred barrels. There are parties here, claiming to be well posted, who allege that the daily production in the Venango Oil regions is fully ten thousand barrels, but we incline to the belief that the Titusville Herald is the best authority we have on this subject; it makes no difference how it figures in this respect, there are always some dissatisfied with the report, because it comes in conflict with their particular interests, and is calculated to have an influence on the market which is not at all agreeable to them. In regard to stocks, we learn from the same source, that there is an increase of forty-seven thousand barrels, compared with February. It is reported that there have been several strikes within the last few days, and it is expected that whenever the weather sets in fine, there will be more activity in development, and that work on old wells will be re-commenced, and that many new ones will be started.

CRUDE—There was not a solitary operation in Crude to-day, and while the market was remarkably quiet prices, compared with Saturday, have undergone no quotable change. Offer to buy 1,000 bbls, each April to June at 15½; and offer to sell, sellers option, until July, at 15½. Spot oil may be quoted at 15⅛@15¾. The offerings seem to be very light, the great bulk of what has already arrived by river being put in on former contracts.

REFINED—But a single sale reported; 1,000 bbls last half of April, at 32½. Sellers option all the month, quoted at 31½; April, last half, 32½; and April to June at 34@34¼. "Lines" running from April to September, May to September, and July to December, remain unchanged.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

DOMESTIC ECONOMY.

Corn Meal Puffs—In one quart of boiling milk, stir eight tablespoonsful of meal, four of sugar, boil five minutes, stir constantly, when cool, add six eggs well beaten, bake in buttered cups one half hour. To be eaten with maple molasses or other sauce to suit the taste.

Indian Slap Jack—One quart of milk, one pint of Indian meal, four eggs, four spoonsful of flour, a little salt. Beat together and bake on a griddle.

Sage and Onion Sauce—Chop fine an ounce of onion and half an ounce of green sage leaves, put them into a stewpan with four spoonsful of water, simmer gently for ten minutes, then put in a teaspoonful of pepper and salt, and one ounce of bread crumbs, mix well together; then pour to it a gill of melted butter (or broth or gravy,) stir well and simmer it a few minutes longer.

Onion Sauce.—Take four onions, slice them, put them in a stewpan with half cup of butter, and let them stew and brown until quite tender. This is very nice with round of beefsteak.

Lemon Sauce.—Pare a lemon and cut it into slices twice as thick as a half dollar; divide these into dice, and put them into a gill of melted butter.

Lemon Dumpling.—One pound of flour, half a pound of sugar, juice of three lemons, grated rind or two, chop half a pound of suet, mix all together with a little water, make out in dumplings, and boil constantly for one hour. To be eaten with any kind of rich sauce.

Waffles.—With two fresh eggs, half a pound of flour, quarter of a pound of sifted sugar, two slices of butter melted in a little milk, and some drops of orange-flower water, compose a batter well mixed, containing no lumps, and which ropes in pouring. Heat your waffle iron, grease it inside with butter, fill it with the batter, close it and return to the fire, browning the waffle on both sides. After being assured that it is of a good color, take it out and keep hot until the moment of serving.

A receipt asked for Fried Bread gives opportunity for the following communication: "Slices of toasted bread, dipped in milk or wine and fried in honey, are excellent. Then, instead of calling them "fried bread" they are torejas, an excellent Spanish delicacy, I can assure you. Please understand there is neither butter nor lard. Simply melt the honey in a pan, and when it is very hot put in the bread, which is served hot also, after becoming nicely browned, and without sugar, recollect." Lovers of honey can take notice.

APPLE WORMS.

We cull the following facts concerning these intolerable pests, from the American Entomologist. It has long been known that, by placing an old cloth, or anything of that nature, in the crotch of an apple tree, the apple-worms may be decoyed into building their cocoons underneath it, and thus be destroyed wholesale. Dr. Trimble's method—which amounts to the same thing, and has been found to be practically very beneficial—is to fasten two or three turns of a hay-band round the trunk of the apple-tree, and every few days from the middle of July to the middle of September, to slip the hay-band up and destroy the cocoons that have from time to time formed on the bark underneath it.

All authors are agreed as to the practical importance of picking up and destroying the wormy apples as fast as they fall, either by hog-power, or, when that is inconvenient or impracticable, by manpower. The practical utility of allowing a gang of hogs the range of the apple orchard throughout the summer is undoubted. When we consider that every female moth that hatches out in July or August, from the first brood of apple-worms, will probably deposit an egg in some two or three hundred nearly matured apples, thereby rendering them more or less unsaleable, the importance of destroying the wormy wind-falls—in the fore part of the season, at all events—becomes at once apparent.

CARE OF BEES IN SPRING.

As soon as bees fly freely in the spring it is important to examine every hive and know their exact condition. If the bees are in movable comb hives, it is easy, by lifting out the frames, to see the amount of the stores, and also to discover, by the presence or absence of brood, if the colony has a queen. It is also easy, with bees in these hives, to supply their wants. If a colony has too little honey, it may have a frame or two of comb, containing honey, given to it from one that can spare it. If neither eggs nor brood, in any stage, are found in a hive on the 1st of March, you may be sure the colony is queenless. At that early period it is not usually best to attempt to supply the loss. The frames, bees, and all, may be put with some other that can make room for them. They will not quarrel, but unite peaceably. Queenless bees are not disposed to quarrel, and other bees will not trouble them if in this condition.

Too many bee-keepers, however, have bees in box-hives or gums. With those it is not easy to do more than guess at their condition, unless one has much experience—it is easy to tell if they are doing well; but, if not, it is hard to ascertain the trouble and apply the remedy. If hives are turned up, after smoking the bees a little to drive them up among the combs, a good "guess" can be given at the amount of stores and the strength of the colony. If the bottom board is examined every morning, you are almost certain to find eggs or immature bees under any hive that has a queen. Any colony, where the bees do not carry in pollen briskly in the first warm spring mornings, should be marked as suspicious, and watched. Queenless hives and those that contain little honey, are not apt to display energy in gathering pollen.

Every worm should be dispatched. Under even the best colonies, some may be found if you take the trouble to look. When my bees were in box-hives, I never omitted to look on the bottom board of each one every morning, and destroy the worms. Every one left soon becomes a miller, capable of laying many eggs that become worms very soon—every one destroyed puts an end to four possible generations in a single season. Destroy every worm in the spring, and you can have no millers hatched in your hives that season.

In localities where willow, hazel, elm, and soft maple abound, bees find natural pollen almost as soon as they can fly in the spring.

In other places it is of great advantage to place rye meal in shallow vessels near the bees every pleasant day, as a substitute for pollen. They gather it eagerly, and rear brood much earlier for having it. If no stream or brook is near your bees, provide them with water in some way; they need it specially in spring, and many are lost if they go far to obtain it. —Rural World.

LONG WOOLED SHEEP should never be pastured with merinos. The later poison them so that they soon become eye-sore and run down.

WILLIAM A. HERRON,

I will be under obligations to the citizens of the county for their support. Very respectfully,

Notice to Our Readers.—Any subscriber who removed on the first of April, should leave the number of his present residence, at our counting room, so that his paper may be left without interruption by the carrier.

Mayor Drum had half a dozen common cases before him yesterday morning.

The Allegheny Councils will hold a regular meeting next Thursday evening.

Workmen were engaged in planting new trees in the Allegheny Park yesterday.

A Meeting of the Allegheny Park Commission will be held this evening at seven o'clock.

Work Resumed.—Work was resumed yesterday on the new Library Hall building, on Penn street.

The Allegheny Board of School Controllers will hold a regular monthly meeting this evening at seven o'clock.

A Rumor.—It is rumored on the streets that a grand fashionable wedding, with open doors, is to take place at St. Paul's Cathedral this morning at nine o'clock.

There is some talk of the purchase of an organ by the Christian Commission, to be used at the Sunday afternoon services in the jail.

The Water and Survey Committees of the Allegheny Councils held their regular meetings last evening. No business outside of the usual routine was transacted.

About Again.—We are pleased to learn that our friend, Dr. P. W. Heron, of Allegheny, who has been ill for a short time past, has recovered and is able to be about again.

The work of constructing the Montgomery avenue sewer, across Federal street, Allegheny, has at last been completed. Pedestrians compelled to travel that way rejoice thereat.

The Allegheny Police yesterday morning arrested a number of young men for loafing at the corner of Lacock and Main streets, Fourth ward. They were each fined three dollars and costs.

Appropos of the proposed new dog ordinance for Pittsburgh, we see it stated that owners of dogs in Cincinnati, where there is a similar law in force, paid out last week $1,163 in the way of licenses.

On Saturday afternoon a large mass of Rock fell from Boyd's Hill to the track of the Connellsville Railroad, near Lock No. 1. It was removed and the track repaired at once, causing little delay in the running of the trains.

Why is It?—Why is it when the mud scrapers have scraped the dirt on a street into little mounds, it is allowed to remain as a kind of ornamental edging to the gutters, until the travel on the thoroughfare spreads it out on the street again. It this street cleaning?

The Lecture given by Mrs. F. M. Barclay, of Chicago, at Rev. J. D. Herr's church, corner Fifth avenue and Marion streets, was largely attended yesterday. The subject this afternoon, commencing at 3:30 o'clock, will be "The causes and cure pertaining to the disease of women."

Trustees Elected.—At the annual meeting of the First Reformed Presbyterian Church the following gentlemen were elected to serve as Trustees for three years: John Megraw, Henry McCracken and Robert C. Miller. The members of the old Board who hold over are Josiah Stevenson, Samuel Barckley, Thomas J. May, F. R. McCutcheon, William A. May and Hugh Young.

Committed for Trial.—Andrew and Elizabeth Walsh, charged on oath of Mena Wesner, with mal-treatment, had a hearing yesterday before Mayor Brush, who held them to bail in the sum of one thousand dollars each for their appearance at Court, in default of which they were committed to jail. The case was fully investigated, and the evidence against the accused was of a most damning character.

A Collision.—Peter O'Neil made information before Alderman Strain, yesterday, against John Williams, for malicious mischief. Williams is employed as a driver for Messrs. McFarland & Collins. O'Neil alleges he drove into him yesterday on Webster street, breaking the axle of his wagon and tearing off a wheel. The accused was arrested, and settled the case by paying damages and cost of prosecution.

Accident.—John W. Patterson, crier of the Courts of Quarter Sessions and Common Pleas, met with a serious accident yesterday morning. He was on his way to the city from his residence near Mt. Washington, and while riding on a car on the coal road on Saw Mill Run, was thrown off and so severely injured as to be unable to attend to his duties. He was taken to his residence, and medical attendence summoned.

Forestalling.—There were three cases before the Mayor yesterday under the ordinance relative to forestalling the market. James Freemont and Agnew & Co., were charged with purchasing a lot of chickens during market hours for the purpose of selling them again, and were each required to pay a fine of five dollars and costs. Andrew Smith, who, its was alleged, had been forestalling the butter market, was required to pay a fine of five dollars and costs.

Builders and all others who deal in the article of lumber, will find in our column of late advertisements in to-day's issue the card of Alexander Patterson, with a memoranda of stock on hand of leading articles in the lumber line, which, although full, does not comprise his entire stock, which in variety would be entirely too large to include in an ordinary advertisement. Attention is particularly directed to the articles of Polar Yellow Pine and other hard woods.

For Clerk of Courts.—Mr. John G. Brown elsewhere announces himself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Clerk of Courts, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention, a position he has filled for nearly a full term with credit to himself and friends. He had an arm taken off in the army in which he served with conspicuous gallantry as a private in Co. H, 102d Pennsylvania Volunteers. Mr. Brown is an active, industrious and honorable business citizen and every way worthy the confidence of the people at large.

Allegheny Police Committee.—The Police Committee of the Allegheny Councils held a special meeting last evening at the Mayor's Office, at which they decided to recommend in their next report to Councils the passage of an ordinance, relating to disorderly houses, similar to the one passed at the last meeting of Pittsburgh Councils, and now in force. In last Friday's issue we published the text of this ordinance. The City Solicitor was also instructed to prepare an ordinance in regard to the taxing of dogs.

Lecture.—This evening J. Mercer Langston, Esq., Professor of Law in the Howard University, Washington, D. C., will deliver a lecture at the Academy of Music. Mr. Langston, it will be remembered, visited this city some months since with Gen. Howard to attend the meeting of the Freedmen's Association, held in the Third Presbyterian church, and it is at the request of a number of the leading men of the two cities, who heard him on that occasion, that he has consented to deliver the lecture to-night. He is a ready talker and possesses a profundity of knowledge and general information, rarely, if ever, excelled.

Pittsburgh Land and Homestead Company.—A general meeting of the above Company will be held Tuesday evening, April 6th, at Sam Kolls, No. 85 Centre avenue, when all the stockholders and all contemplating the taking of stock in the above Company, are requested to be present. The charter of the Company has been granted by the Legislature, and business of importance will be brought before the Company, and the payment of the stock of the Company will be commenced, dating from April 1st.

By order of the Company,
WM. MAYS, Secretary.

Court House and Jail Improvements.—The Prison Board, which met on Saturday last, approved of and adopted the plans and specifications made by Barr & Mozer, architects, a description of which was published in the GAZETTE some time since, and resolved to have the improvements made in accordance therewith immediately, as will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, in which appear advertisements for proposals for the iron work required in the improvements and also for the excavations for cellar and foundations. The plans and specifications are ready for inspection at Barr & Mozer's, No. 3 Sixth street.

Young Men's Association.

Upwards of forty young men, connected with the First Reformed Presbyterian Church, (Dr. Douglas, Pastor,) met last evening, and organized themselves into a Pastor's Aid and Mutual Improvement Association. The meeting was quite a spirited one, and gave promise of good results. A constitution was reported and partially adopted. It was referred to a committee to report on next Monday evening, at half past seven o'clock. The proceedings of the evening were interspersed with religious exercises.

Receiving Stolen Goods.

Jacob Goldstein, who was arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the robbery at Bates & Bell's, an account of which we published, had a hearing yesterday. James Tartz, who was arrested the day after the robbery, and after a hearing committed for trial, was taken out of jail to testify at the hearing, and stated that Goldstein had planned the robbery, and that he had given him a portion of the stolen goods. The Mayor held Goldstein to bail for his appearance at Court.

Central Passenger Railway Company.

The Corporators and Stockholders of the Central Passenger Railway Company met at the office of E. P. Jones, Esq., on Grant street, yesterday afternoon. The Committee appointed by the corporaters to secure subscriptions to the capital stock, reported that all the stock had been subscribed and that the Company was ready for organization. The Stockholders went into an election for Directors, which resulted in the choice of the following well-known citizens: C. Hanson Love, E. P. Jones, H. L. McNish, Charles Jeremy, Robert Arthurs, Richard G. Herron and Max K. Moorhead.

President—C. Hanson Love.
Vice President—E. P. Jones.
Secretary—Charles P. Duff.
Treasurer—Max K. Moorhead.

When the Directors have purchased the rights and franchises of the Minersville Passenger Railway, it is the intention of the Board to equip and manage it in such a manner as to make it second to none in accommodation of its patrons.

The Directors will hold another meeting this week, to hear the reports of committees.

Another Confidence Game.

From a transaction which occurred yesterday, it is quite certain that the infamous scamps who make their living by practicing sharp games on unsuspecting strangers, commonly called "confidence operators," have not all left our city, but on the contrary are still operating here, and apparently doing a good business.

Yesterday evening, two men whose names we could not learn, arrived in this city from Scotland, and shortly afterward went to the Allegheny depot, where they met two men who succeeded in "doing" them to the amount of $12 or $80. The sharpers pretended to be connected with the Pacific Railroad, and said they were in search of hands. The Scotchmen were Civil Engineers, and a contract was soon entered into between the parties, by which it appears the Engineers were to advance $60 to defray their expenses to their place of destination. The money was paid over and the parties repaired to the Merchants' Hotel, to complete their arrangements, and on arriving there, the Scotchmen were told to wait at the door until the agents should return. They entered the hotel but failed to return, and the Scotch Engineers were left standing at the door minus $60. The circumstances of the case were made known at the Mayor's office, and officers McCready and Dressler are after the sharpers but have not yet succeeded in capturing them.

An Importunate Suitor.

Alderman McMasters, yesterday morning, received a visit from an elderly lady, a resident of Braddock's Fields, who gave her name as Miss Ann Williams. The purpose of Miss Williams' visit was soon made clear to the apprehension of the attentive official. She had unfortunately become the object of the intense admiration of John Montaine, a youthful stripling and neighbor, aged about eighteen years. Having passed through fifty-six summers, with a heart unscathed, and free, she refused the attentions of the youthful John, and bade him seek elsewhere for an object of affection. John, however, was not to be dismissed in this manner. Persistently day after day he renewed his attentions, and finally became so exceedingly earnest as to declare that the name of Williams would be changed to Montaine, or Montaine and Williams would "shuffle off this mortal coil" by means of a huge revolver which he had procured for the purpose. Fearing this dire threat might be carried into execution, the lady at once hurried away to seek the protection of the law. The sympathetic official who was made acquainted with this romantic history, advised the importuned fair one to seek redress at hands of an official in her immediate neighborhood in order that a more strict watch might be kept on the movements of the importunate suitor. Acting upon this advice, she departed to carry it into execution.

NEW BRIGHTON.

The Burgess—Spotted Fever—Female Preaching, &c.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW BRIGHTON, April 5, 1869.

The State Legislature has clothed our Burgess with the power of a Justice of the Peace. This is, we think, as it should be. It will enable him to be a terror to evil doers.

There was a case of spotted fever just outside of town last week. The victim was a lady fifty-eight years old, the wife of Wm. Shaffer. It did its work so rapidly that medical was of no avail, though it was tried.

We had the privilege of hearing a woman preach, a few days since, in this place. She belongs to the Society of Orthodox Friends. She preached good doctrine and gave wholesome advice. Took no text, nor was there any singing. No doubt she is a good woman.

The roads in the country around here are very muddy.

The Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago R. R. Co. are about to erect a new depot at the south end of the town.

Quite a number of the weddings in this place during the last few months have taken place on the Sabbath day.

The first of April created quite a stir among the people here. They moved in all directions. We are enjoying a great calm now. C.

Poison for Dogs, Again.

The immortal "J. N." has a companion in the mad dog editor and poison keeper of the Post. The latter assumes the hydrophobia pressure, and endeavors to lift the veil which hides so much misery and suffering held in reserve for people who will not heed his voice and scatter poisoned lozenges on the pavements or toss them into stores and cellars where dogs are kept. "J. N." travels through the country elucidating his peculiar doctrines; the other fellow takes shorter journeys, traveling only away from his own good sense and reason to press his ideas. The insanity in each case is of the same type, only "J. N." once had the credit of possessing a little wisdom, and there is hope entertained for his recovery; but, unfortunately, his imitator has no clear record in that direction, and his most intimate acquaintances despair of his ultimate improvement until every dog in christendom be poisoned—and that will be after he is dead.

First Annual Report of the Pittsburgh Home for Destitute Women, April 1st, 1869.

During the winter of 1868, at the weekly meetings of the managers of the Women's Christian Association, facts of the most startling nature were constantly brought before them by the Visitors, which seemed to demand that immediate measures should be taken for the establishment of a refuge for distressed and unfortunate women.

Cases were reported of young women of unblemished character, induced by reports of high wages given in the city, and ignorant of the difficulties before them, who had come to seek employment, finding themselves at the approach of night without home or friend, and unable to gain admission to a reputable lodging place. During the intensely cold weather of January, some such were compelled to ask permission of the Mayor of Allegheny to spend the night in the lock-up, to be sent the next day to the county jail, as the only place of refuge open to them until the inclement weather had passed.

Other cases which excited deep commiseration, were those of erring women who earnestly desired to abandon the paths of vice, but were surrounded by circumstances which seemed to render the first steps to reformation well nigh impossible. Others were found in the prisons, sentenced for some first crime, sincerely repentant and full of earnest resolves on good conduct in future, yet doomed by a prison reputation to sink to the lowest depths of infamy, unless some temporary home could be given on their release, and some kindly hand extended to aid and guide them in the effort to retrieve the past in a better life.

The managers resolved, unanimously, to procure a small house and fit it up as a temporary refuge for any women in distress. After much anxious but fruitless effort to rent a building suitable for our purpose, it was decided best to purchase one.

The brick building No. 45, Chatham street, containing ten rooms, was offered for the sum of $5,000, and accepted, one thousand to be paid down, and the balance in three annual payments, and of this we took possession on the 1st day of April 1868.

The premises were much out of repair, but every one to whom we applied for assistance, gave it so cheerfully and heartily that we soon had the satisfaction of seeing the wood work repaired and painted, the walls newly papered, the front windows filled with enamelled glass and others repaired, stoves freely given and set up, and the yard graveled and repaved with brick.

A matron had already been engaged and the work of furnishing the house commenced.

The managers were cheered in their work by the daily gift of beds, bedsteads, comforts, chairs, tables and furniture for every part of the house, and by the generous response of the merchants to their appeal for food, clothing and fuel. The names of many of the donors cannot appear in the list, for the reason that their gifts were sent anonymously, but all were valuable, and for the first six months very few articles were required to be purchased.

A charter was promptly enacted by the Legislature of the State, granting all the powers needed for the proper management of the institution and its inmates, and exempting the property from taxation. The city authorities also kindly remitted the water tax.

An insurance of $2,500 has been taken upon the building.

The Home was opened for the reception of women needing its shelter—not only the merely unfortunate and distressed, but also the criminal and fallen who desired to reform—the intention being to separate them as far as circumstances would permit, and always at night.

The Board of Managers felt, from the first, that the difficult part of their duty would be to control the undisciplined fallen, and guide them into the paths of morality and virtue. It was an entirely new work to all, and they shrank from it; not from any doubt as to the duty, but from a sense of their own insufficiency for its performance. But they felt that the Saviour had set them an example in the kind and loving words he spoke to the women in the Temple, to the woman at the well of Samaria, and to Mary Magdalen. Looking to Him, then, as their great example, their strength in weakness, their Almighty helper, they took courage and entered upon their labors with many prayers.

Their prayers for guidance seemed remarkably answered in the visit of Miss Goulden, matron of the Temporary Asylum for discharged female prisoners, at Dedham, near Boston. Miss Goulden had been for three years the ruling spirit at Dedham, and to her judicious christian control its managers attribute much of the success of that institution. From her we gained valuable information, and her advice and assistance greatly aided us in framing judicious rules for ourselves, as well as for the Home and those we desired to benefit. A year's experience has impressed upon us the advantage of a right beginning.

The Home is in charge of a matron and an assistant, directed by the Board of Managers, two of whom are appointed to visit during each month. They are required to be at the house not less than twice in each week, and oftener if possible. It is the duty of the matron to instruct the inmates in all kinds of domestic labor, so as the better to fit them for earning an honest living. All who are not prevented by sickness are required to work, and for their encouragement half the proceeds of their labor is given to them. The matron is also directed to teach them to read and write.

Religious services are conducted every Sunday afternoon in the house by clergymen of the city. A prayer meeting is held every Tuesday afternoon by the managers, and the duties of each day are begun and closed with family prayer. A meeting for Bible instruction has been held weekly until last month, when the excellent teacher was obliged to give it up. Another has since taken her place.

The number of persons received during the year was 120, two of whom were colored. Of these, seventy were cases of distress and destitution, not criminality. Thirty-six came from the county prison, and three from the Penitentiary. Thirty-six had led abandoned lives, twenty-three were Roman Catholics, forty-two claimed to have received good instruction in youth, eight attributed their fall to misfortunes, five were sent to the Homoepathic Hospital, eleven to the Poor Farm, three children to the Home for the Friendless, one to the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum and one to the Mercy Hospital. Twenty-three children were received in all.

Eleven of the erring who have been under our care have reformed and are doing well thus far.

In December of last year a Fair in aid of the Home was held in City Hall, which was generously patronized. Its proceeds enabled the Managers to anticipate the final payment and receive a deed for the house.

The balance of the Fair funds, amounting to $5,000, is invested to aid in meeting the current expenses. The law business of the Home has been transacted by Mr. J. H. Baldwin, and Dr. John Wishart has been the medical attendant. For the gratuitous services of these gentlemen the Board tender their thanks, as well as to the many other friends of the institution, for whose sympathy and generosity we have so much reason to be grateful.

In reviewing the events of the year, the Board feel that the good which has been accomplished far more than compensates for the labor and discouragements encountered. All who have engaged faithfully in the work feel this, and we enter upon a new year in prayerful confidence and hope, assured that the Divine blessing will follow, and in due time we shall "reap if we faint not."

Forcible Ejectment.

Oliver Adams made information before Alderman McMasters yesterday against Wm. Carry and a number of others, for forcible ejectment. Adams alleges that he occupied a house in South Pittsburgh, at the end of the Monongahela bridge, which was claimed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. He refused to yield to their claim, when, he states, they sent a force of men and quietly took possession of the premises, after removing him. The men engaged in the alleged ejectment were arrested and gave bail in the sum of one thousand dollars each for their appearance at Court.

The Mammoth Cave.

Extract from a Private Letter.

* * * * *. We groped about for hours in this wonderful place. I never saw anything like it. The freaks of nature displayed here are very strange, and strike the beholder with awe. But the air in some parts of the cave is close and stifling, and when we came out I found myself saddled with a terrible fever, which entirely postrated me. The physician had never seen a case like it before, and no remedy he prescribed seemed to do the least good. My life was despaired of. Mrs. Wilson, with whom I was residing, had in the house a bottle of PLANTATION BITTERS, and she insisted that I should try it, for she said she knew it to be a certain cure in all cases of fever, debility, ague, dyspepsia, &c. I had but little faith, but finally consented to try it as a last resort. In less than three hours after the first dose my fever left me: in two days I was sitting up, and before Saturday night I was as well as ever. I tell you all this that you may know how to act in any case of fever, or any similar disease. I firmly believe the PLANTATION BITTERS saved my life. * * * * * In my next I will tell you about the cave in detail. A. J. P.
